PROTECTING YOUR SANITARYWARE INVESTMENT

Do NOT use sanitaryware for any purpose other than the purpose intended.

DO’S AND DON’TS OF CERAMIC SANITARYWARE CARE

Ceramic sanitaryware is made from vitreous china and may chip or crack on impact with hard materials.
Handle with care.
Do not drop hard objects onto sanitaryware.
Install pans using the fixations provided. This ensures ease of removal or replacement.

DO’S AND DON’TS OF ACRYLIC SANITARYWARE CARE

Never use rough materials such as steel wool or scotchbrite to clean sanitaryware as it will scratch the acrylic.
Never use aggressive chemicals to clean acrylic. Mild soap and water is sufficient to remove dirt.
Make sure the bath is protected from rough materials and falling objects during installation and building.
Keep sand, stones and other materials out the bath as these will scratch the acrylic.
Do not use cigarettes, cigars or candles near the acrylic as it will melt or burn.
On installation, make sure the base of the bath or shower tray is adequately supported to carry the weight.
Baths should also be properly supported with battens on the edge to prevent cracks.
Make provision for suitable access to enable plumbing after installation.

DO’S AND DON’TS OF ACCESSORY CARE

Seats should be cleaned with only mild soap and water.
Care should be taken not to scratch seats or use abrasive cleaners.
Tightness of the seat fixation bolts should be checked at regular intervals.
Spa pumps should never be started without a completely submerged suction inlet as the pump can be easily damaged if run without water.
Dirt and sand should be kept away from the bellow buttons which will stick if dirty.
Never use putty when installing mechanisms or inlet valves.
Plumbing should be thoroughly flushed to remove sand, cement, stones and flux before use.
Such foreign objects can block the flushing mechanism or inlet valves and cause malfunction.
